MILWAUKEE ELECTION, 1908.

For Mayor—EMIL SEIDEL

For Comptroller
CHARLES V. SCHMIDT

For Treasurer
CHARLES B. WHITNALL

Labor must make a noise like labor on election day or the courts will keep on forgetting that he who toils is a part of the general citizenship.

The old party office hunters' program can be summed up in a few words: Make empty promises galore, get there—and then tell the people to go to blazes!

Literary circles are commenting on the increasing Socialistic flavor of the recent novels written by William Dean Howells. But there is nothing surprising in it, for Mr. Howells has been a confirmed Socialist for years.

The trade unionists estimate the number of unemployed in Milwaukee at fifteen thousand. The manufacturers were led by public attention to the subject to also make an estimate, and placed the number at nine thousand. But you may be sure the union estimate is nearer the true mark.

There are sixty thousand jobless men in that great hive of capitalist industry, Pittsburg, and the organized workers were rather taken off their feet last week when one of the capitalist dailies dropped the old game of fooling the people and printed the facts brought out at a monster out-of-work meeting.

A united labor movement is powerful, of course; but an irresponsible supreme court is more powerful.

And to just the extent that labor has sanctioned the present government by votes thoughtlessly cast for the capitalist parties, must it

OUR CAUSE IS GOOD, NOW WORK FOR THE VICTORY

On April 7 the voters of Milwaukee will again have an opportunity to express their will at the ballot-box. In our city there are three great parties: the Republican, the Social-Democratic and the Democratic.

The Republican party is known as the favorite political organization of the trusts, and such it will remain. Even Roosevelt's henchmen—who, moreover, only want to prolong the reign of capital through reforms—cannot deny that. A workingman who votes the Republican ticket—votes for unlimited exploitation and wage slavery. He gets it, and, of course, he can blame nobody.

The Democratic party up till the present time was in the South an historic opposition party—against the abolition of negro slavery.

In the North—especially in the large northern states—it is simply the political organization of thieves and grafters. The capitalists of the north use the Democratic party for the dirtiest and most despicable political work.

The Democratic party of our large cities stands in with all the criminal elements—with prostitution, gambling hells and common thieves.

The workingman who votes the Democratic ticket ought to understand this. If he insists on voting that ticket he ought to know what he is doing to his wife and children.

The Social-Democratic party is the American expression of the international political movement for the emancipation of the working class.

The Social-Democratic party maintains that through the national development of society—and especially through economic development, the concentration of wealth, the trusts and other growths—the people have outgrown the old system. The people must therefore adopt a system which will conform to the new civilization, or civilization will perish.

hide its chagrin, while still keeping up "a devil of a thikin'."

Having used little fallable, Evelyn Thaw, and her fixed-up, "letter-perfect" story, to get Harry Thaw on the way to speedy freedom, the Thaw family are now preparing to twist her neck, so far as her matrimonial relations with the degenerate Harry are concerned. They say they are in possession of facts to show that she has been leading the old life while her husband was in a murderer's cell, and that she better take whatever settlement they choose to give.

Here's a nice case of millionaire gratitude.

Milwaukee politicians express themselves secretly as amazed at the bold that the Social-Democratic party has secured on the people.

Wherever they have tried to circulate their nomination papers they have run up against whole blocks of Socialist voters, and have been unable to sway them; with any of their old tales about the awfulness of the collectivist principle in human affairs.

The people are simply on to the politicians, and also have the ability to see through them and to detect the familiar outlines of corporation graft hovering in their wake!

Out in Los Angeles, Cal., the Socialists are trying to maintain their constitutional right of free assembly against the efforts of the police department, which is in the hands of the big capitalists. The streets are the poor man's meeting halls, and the workingmen naturally insist on their right to their use under proper regulations. And yet street meetings are of doubtful value to the Socialist movement, and there is always a sort of freakishness about the appearance of such gatherings. Still, when poor men have no money to hire halls, what are they going to do? There are no corporations financing their propaganda.

President Roosevelt is coming in for a good deal of scoring for the part he played in helping on the passage of the infamous Nevada constabulary law. The law sets at defiance all the guarantees of personal safety of the United States Constitution and provides a military dictatorship, with Governor Sparks as the autocrat. The "cosacks" are responsible to him alone. They have the power to deputize any citizen, arrest any person, compel the railroads to convey themselves and their prisoners, force the keepers of any jail or penitentiary to receive such prisoners, and to release them only at the command of the police.

The victims have no recourse; no

Now what is the question in the approaching election?

Between the two capitalist parties there is none—not one worth mentioning. It is simply a question of who is to get the offices.

But for the workingman there is a question which overshadows all other political issues.

This is the question: How shall we live?

Fifteen thousand workingmen in this city today are out of employment. Their savings, if they had any, were used up months ago, their credit with the small dealers is exhausted, and their rent cannot be paid. And the prospects indicate that this state of things will still continue for a time to come.

This is the question which for the workingman goes ahead of all others.

Capitalist society, which is constantly supported by the workingmen, must now turn about and help to support them. It is true it gives charity. This is only a drop on a hot stone.

Capitalistic society will do nothing more. It has no need to do more, so long as the workingmen bear their fate quietly.

The present state of things is the work of the capitalist class. They are therefore responsible for these conditions.

However, nobody calls them to account except the Social-Democrats.

Certain workingmen in Milwaukee have voted many years for the Republican party, "protection and prosperity." Now these workingmen have a Republican prosperity so far as they are concerned. Industry will be paralyzed for some years, and the workingmen will be on the street.

This need not trouble the capitalist class at all, as long as the workingmen consent to it. And some workingmen declare their consent by voting for those parties which want to uphold the present "order."

trial is "provided for—arrested without warrant, they may be imprisoned indefinitely without having any legal recourse. The law makes the few rich mine owners of the state supreme and puts all miners absolutely at their mercy.

One of the significant developments of the day is the fact that a large share of the successful college orations are on Socialism, or topics closely allied thereto. It is a vital subject with the people, and one to inspire oratory to impassioned heights of eloquence.

While some other cities were haggling over the unemployed situation and trying to minimize it by all the arts and deceptions known to the old party press and politician, Philadelphia has stepped into the breach and authorized a ten million dollar loan for the sake of its unemployed. It will set afoot needed public work and will actually wipe out the situation of unemployment so far as that city is concerned.

Atty-Gen. Ellis of Ohio, speaking before the grand jury in the case against the Ohio bridge trust, made use of some of the following sentences:

"Never have I found a set of men so steeped in infamous crime."

"There has been widespread bribery of county officials."

"County Commissioners have made estimates of $150,000 for the building of bridges that they knew could be built for $60,000."

"Estimates have been changed and made larger to suit bids offered."

Some of the firms indicted pleaded guilty and were fined, the managers of others took vacations so as not to have to testify, and finally the courts threw the case against the trust out on some technicality or other.

And all this is not so strange. For just now the capitalist government back of the courts is straining at gnats and swallowing camels. In other words the anti-trust laws are being used to jump on labor unions, which are not trusts, instead of trusts which are. In sheer self-defense the working people have got to let the courts hear from them on election days, or labor will be hounded back into helpless subservience to capitalism by judicial seizures.

Suicide is alarmingly on the increase, perhaps you have noticed. Capitalistic conditions are deadly!

Don't "save" your vote by throwing it away on capitalist party candidates, this time also!

Every vote cast at the election for any other than the Social-Democratic party means that the voter who casts it is satisfied with present conditions, with the "panic," hard times, lack of employment, poverty and beggary.

This cannot be disputed.

In Milwaukee the masses of the people are beginning to understand this. And therefore great anxiety reigns among the capitalist politicians.

The attacks on the Social-Democratic party and its spokesmen—as well as against the unions so closely allied with the party in this city, and against their leaders—from year to year grow more and more fierce, and more and more unscrupulous.

The old terror of Socialism and the stupid superstition that the Socialists want to "divide up" has about disappeared in Milwaukee. Yet the politicians, and especially David Rose and Louis Dahmann, the son-in-law of Patrick Cudahy of the meat trust, are using every effort to revive it. They once more paint the "red spectre" on the wall.

However, these "gentlemen" are playing a losing game.

It is absolutely unnecessary for us to repeat again that Social-Democracy is the direct opposite of anarchy. That the robber trusts, hand in hand with ignorance and misery, are breeding anarchy and anarchy. And that the safest and the only known sure antidote to anarchy is Social-Democracy.

Social-Democracy will not only wipe out the trusts, but also misery and ignorance. This will be done naturally by the Social-Democratic party.

Locally we will wipe out graft, thievery and "jobbery." The record of the few men we had in the common council and in the county board proves this. The few Social-Democrats we elected did more to elevate the general standing of these two bodies than all the grand juries and court investigations combined.

A return to the old regime would mean a return to the rule of the thieves and grafters. The election of a Social-Democratic mayor and a Social-Democratic common council will mean the best and most progressive administration this city or any other city in America has ever had.

And do not get caught by the current drivels about "business principles" and business administrations.

We never had anything else but business administrations. That is exactly what every city in America has today.

And "graft," according to District Attorney Jerome of New York—who is not a Socialist—simply means the principles of business applied to politics.

We do not want to exclude so-called business men from taking their due share in public life. "Business men" have had a monopoly of it so far.

And therefore we want to destroy the superstition of the exclusive virtue of the merchant, contractor, banker and lawyer for ruling our city.

Then the affairs of our city will soon be where they ought to be. They will be in the hands of the majority of the people—in the hands of the busy people—the only real men of busy-ness in the world.

Everybody sees we are right in this matter. Even upon the middle class the idea is beginning to dawn that the Social-Democracy is the party of the future. That it is the party of civilization. That all elements of society must get used to Socialist ideas and Socialist measures as they have become accustomed to the railways and the telephone.

Therefore we Social-Democrats can look forward to the outcome of this election calmly and with the highest hopes.

However, we do not expect to rest and hope.

On the contrary, we expect that every comrade and every sympathizer will do his duty—to himself, his family, his city, his country and to humanity.

We are the advance guard of the new civilization, of the coming world in America.

We can truly say, to use a Biblical expression: The Lord has given them into our hands. Forward and smite them!

We cannot lose! We can only win!

THE GENTLE ART OF ELECTION STEALING

VOTE BROKERAGE A REGULAR BUSINESS. HONEST ELECTIONS IN AMERICAN CITIES ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE.

By Frederic Heath.

Perhaps no recent contribution to the literature of exposure has attracted more notice than Charles Edward Russell's three papers in recent issues of the Cosmopolitan, under the general head of "At the throat of the Republic." Mainly the facts presented refer to election thefts and rascalities in New York City, but Mr. Russell points to other cities as well and insists that there is a regular syndicated vote-brokerage business carried on in the country, and that the main culprits lack of it are the big capitalist interests. Election frauds are organized and systematically committed, says Mr. Russell, along these

Three Main Ways:

First. Before the election, by colonizing non-residents and by padding the registration lists with the names of these and others not legal voters.

Second. At the election, by the casting of fraudulent votes; by "repeaters," or men that go from polling place to polling place voting in each; by mutilating ballots so that they will be rejected by the canvassers; by bribery; by intimidating voters and driving them from the polls.

Third. After the election, by miscounting the ballots; by certifying falsely to the returns; by preventing investigation that would reveal their crimes.

A Sample Case.

Take a sample case, taken from the evidence secured from the New York election of 1905. A gray-haired man, who looked as if he habitually slept in his clothes, approached a polling place on the East Side. As he entered the polling place he was followed in by a bloated, big and expensively dressed man, known as "judge" and a candidate for office. The gray-haired man gave his name as Robert Patterson to the clerk, whereupon the bloated-faced candidate addressed him with a "Good morning, Patterson. Voting early today?" And the gray-haired man looked a little uneasy and answered: "Yes, I am voting early to get to business."

After he had voted he did not so much as give the "judge" a look but gained the street and kept on walking till he had reached the next precinct. As he entered the polling place a well dressed man followed him in. The gray-haired man gave his name as William J. Powers. "Morning Powers," said the well dressed man who had followed him. "Voting early today?" "Yes," he answered, furtively, "I am voting early to get to business." After voting he slipped round the corner, glanced at a slip of paper he took from his pocket, and then walked on to the next precinct. As he entered the polling place of that precinct a sharp-eyed man who had been standing around followed him in. The gray-haired man gave his name as Edward Jones. "Hello Jones," called out the man who had followed him in, "I see you are voting early this morning." "Yes," replied the voter, "Voting early to get to business."

The Floater Game.
Now this gray-haired man's name was neither Patterson, nor Powers nor Jones. His name was Vance and he lived in Philadelphia. He did not have any business to get to that day, and the three prosperous looking men who had addressed him so familiarly at the three different polling places were total strangers to him!

"This might be a scene taken from any important election in any large city in America," says Mr. Russell. "While Vance of Philadelphia was in New York going from one polling precinct to another and depositing in each:

A Fraudulent and Criminal Ballot. Thousands upon thousands of other men and in other cities from Boston to San Francisco and from Minneapolis to New Orleans, were going from polling place to polling place doing exactly the same thing. So that in the whole United States on election day in one year and day the crimes against the ballot box and the violations of the laws whereunder we strive to protect the sanctity of elections were literally numbered by the millions; and again and again the issue pending was not decided in any way by the will of the majority of the people, but solely by the lawless activities of the Vances and their tribes."

A Vast Traffic.

And Mr. Russell adds that whereas probably all voters suspect that some of this sort of thing goes on, most of them little realize that it is not a thing that occasionally happens where the public is off its guard, but "a vast, organized, captioned and profitable industry, from some form of which scarcely any community in the United States is free."

But there are the strongest of laws against it? Yes, but while the laws against gamblers and divelkeepers often bring offenders to punishment, this thing of fraud upon the voting franchise goes on at every election, and Mr. Russell presents statistics to show as an average only about three in one hundred of those who are really caught are punished in any way. He presents, for instance, the figures relative to the arrests in the wholesale election frauds in Louisville committed by the capitalist parties in 1905, and it is shown that 37 offenders were dismissed by a "grand" jury, 20 acquitted by jury (the juries made up by capitalist party officials in the usual way), 8 cases allowed to drag and be forgotten, 11 pending in court of appeals, 4 others escaping by hook or crook, and the sum total of results in the interests of justice—ONE CONVICTION! And this one man, a negro, pleaded guilty.

Thousands of Election Crimes!

In New York in 1905 there were estimated to have been 60,000 election crimes. There were 1,000 arrests and only 24 convictions. In Philadelphia in 1904 out of 81,000 estimated election crimes there were 24 convictions. In Chicago, out of 12,000 estimated election crimes in 1903, there were 10 convictions. In Cincinnati, out of 10,000 estimated election crimes in 1905, there was 1 conviction. In St. Louis, in 1905 and 1906, out of 5,000 estimated election crimes there was 1 conviction.

Big Capitalists Back of It!

And everywhere, back of the crimes, were the big capitalistic interests represented in the elections by various old party candidates. And what were a few fines to pay compared with the great fortunes to be made or added to these already made through crooked aldermanic heating grants and street car franchises or lighting contracts? Powerful influences stand back of the fraudulent voter.

The foundation of the whole system of election frauds in the big cities is fraudulent registration. And the extent to which fraudulent registration has been carried is simply astonishing. At every election this fraud presents itself. Almost every lodging house in the congested districts is a sort of vote factory.

Dead Men, Dogs and Cats!

Mr. Russell gives instances in New York where dead men, dogs and cats and even canaries were registered, and the numbers registered from small lodging houses were grotesquely amazing, for there was scarcely floor space to accommodate the number even had they been cordwood instead of human bodies. Besides this, men were registered from vacant lots, from parks, from gas tanks, stables, stone piles and from locations that were really at the bottom of the East River. Other cities have the same showing. Mr. Russell gives a mass of evidence taken from the court records showing the enormous amount of individual cases of fraudulent registration and repeating, and of men brought in gangs from other cities for the purpose.

A Give-Away in Brooklyn.

The postoffice at Brooklyn collected fifteen thousand pieces of mail addressed to voters who were registered but who were not known and could not be found at the addresses given. The N. Y. World published the confessions of men who had voted twelve and more times in New York and Brooklyn. It also secured statements as to district leaders trading their hands of fraudulent voters with each other. It found that hordes of men had been brought in from Philadelphia, New Jersey and Connecticut. The press estimated the number of floaters and colonizers at between 20,000 and 30,000 and this was considered not unusual, only the election.

Voting Dead Citizens.

Philadelphia takes no back seat in the matter of fraud in elections. One Philadelphia politician boasted that they were still voting the signers of the Declaration of Independence in that city, and this is said to be less a joke than one might imagine. Between 40,000 and 80,000 dead citizens were voted in Philadelphia in 1904 out of

DIRECT YOUR EFFORTS WISELY!

To the Comrades:

If some of the old warriors of our movement could come to life these days and see the fruit all around us ready to be picked, how their eyes would dance! Wisconsin offers a most inviting field, for reasons that we have already stated a good many times. The fund we are raising to send literature to selected lists if near-Socialists, supplied us by comrades at various points and centers, is already beginning to produce results, as we shall show from week to week. The present-day warriors round the country are responding nobly to our call, and if Socialism fails to break into Congress at last this fall it will not be because they have neglected opportunities presented to them. We feel sure you want to be in on this fund. We do not make many calls on you. With us it is not a case of constant appeals, of "keeping something up all the while." But when we do speak there is the greatest justification for it.

THE REASON for SOCIALISM

By H. ESELL.

"Always be ready to give an answer to any one who asks your reason for the hope that you cherish."

CHAPTER II.

The Preservation of Society—A Reason.

BUT I am not answering for others, so much as for myself; and as an additional reason why I am interested in Socialism, I answer that I am compelled to be by the other members of society.

Suppose that I should become thoroughly disgusted (as I am) with the impure foods, adulterated drinks, shoddy, disease-infected wearing apparel, and other worthless articles that the profit-seeking capitalist forces upon me; suppose I should become weary (and I am) of being robbed by grafters, embezzlers, bribe-givers and bribe-takers; suppose I should become sick at heart (and I am) at the sight of the wretched poor, the dive-cursed, the depraved, the ignorant, the insane, the criminal; and to free myself from the whole catalogue above named I seek out some secluded spot between the mountains, and begin life over again, going back, if possible, to the individual method of producing all the necessities of life by hand; and suppose by my strength and perseverance I succeed in hewing out of the wilderness a beautiful and valuable estate where I believe I could enjoy life unmolested by the corruption and turmoil of the capitalist system of production and distribution. How long do you suppose I would be let alone as an individual, and not have society thrust upon me. It would not be a year. First, the tax assessor would find me, and tell me that society demands that I shall help defray the cost of government, and so he puts a value on the results of my labor, and tells me that I must be prepared to pay a certain per cent on that value to the tax collector who will certainly visit me in a short time. The tax collector soon finds his way to my retreat. He demands money of me. I explain that I have no money, that I have no use for it. He tells me that my estate will be sold, that I will be ejected and some one else will come into possession. So I leave my secluded retreat, go out among society, sell some of my product in order to get some money. Thus again I am being socialized. But this is not all. Compulsory education is in force, and I am informed that I must send my children over the mountain to the nearest public school, because the good of society demands that they be educated. Now I may not like a course of instruction that is capitalistic in every detail; that teaches my children a false political economy; that teaches that kings and emperors are superior beings, and entitled to honor and worship that do not belong to others; that instructs them that the principles of rent, interest and profit are from everlasting to everlasting, and that the progress of the nation depends upon their continuance, notwithstanding I read in my Bible, Exodus 22: 25, "If thou lend money to any of my people with thee that is poor, thou shalt not be to him as a creditor, neither shall ye lay upon him interest." Leviticus 25: 36, 37: "Take thou no interest of him, or increase, but fear thy God; that thy brother may live with thee. Thou shalt not give him thy money upon interest, nor give him thy victuals for increase."

A war breaks out between the government I am taxed to support, and some other nation, and I am conscripted, and ordered to report at the nearest military station for duty, notwithstanding I am convinced that wars grow out of commercial greed, and the lust for foreign markets; that they are of no benefit to the working-class who have to bear the larger part of the suffering and deprivation which every foreign war entails; and so I may object to taking of the life of my fellow man and destroying his property, and much more object to being a target for him and having him destroy the results of my labor.

The Necessity for Participation in Government by All the People.

So I am once more convinced that it is useless to try to escape from the current of progress, and the only hope for any citizen living under any government is to demand as full and complete participation in that government as any other citizen, and thus become a real part of it, so that his voice may be heard and his vote may be counted on all matters affecting his interests, and as all of us are subject to the same laws of nature from the standpoint of our physical necessities, it stands to reason that when the masses are left free to exercise their judgment in these matters, the majority vote will be that which will be to the highest interest of all, and in fact is the only safe way of saving all from injury. It may give some classes, as they are constituted today, pain to admit other classes to such an equal participation in the government, but it is the only way to save all from suffering and destruction, and to enable all to take another step in progress.

The absolute necessity for this larger and fuller democracy is not to be explained by supposing that some restless, discontented person hatched the idea in his own brain. It has been forced upon us by our progress, and by the total change that has taken place in our industrial and economic life during the last half century. Discovery in every field, the invention of labor-saving machinery, the reducing of production to a system, have rendered every person dependent upon these great forces, and hence the absolute necessity that every citizen should have an equal participation in the government, if he is to save himself from exploitation, yes, even annihilation. It is then not a deranged brain that causes the Socialist to demand the Initiative, the Referendum, the Imperative Mandate, or the Right of Recall. The Socialist simply takes notice of the necessity for these, and calls the attention of his fellow citizens to this necessity. For the evils of democracy, he sees the necessity for more democracy, even the democratic management of industry, and calls attention to it. He may not be heeded at once, but he is undisturbed, knowing that sooner or later events will force all to see it as he does.

It would be interesting to trace the processes of evolution that have forced us to the demands just named. Space will not allow it, at this time, but by way of a suggestion, let it be remembered that the Right of Recall was probably not thought of in 1808. Even the election of officials was comparatively new then, but as the government began to go into more and more business enterprises, as public ownership became more popular, and cities and towns began to operate water works, gas plants, light plants, street railways, wood and coal yards, ice factories and so forth, it was found that a single petty official in a small municipality could steal more from the people in a few months, than a tyrant of olden times could steal in a whole reign, hence the necessity for these weapons of defense to be constantly in the hands of the people in these modern times.

Socialism Demanded by Natural Law.

Again I answer that the very laws of nature, and the laws of my being compel me to be a Socialist. I will give just a few illustrations to show how true this is.

In the past, when the earth was sparsely settled, and there was one or more miles intervening between each habitation, there existed an ideal condition for that kind of individualism which some unthinking persons advocate for the present. At that time, when residences were separated by broad acres, and densely populated cities were few, it made very little difference how any particular individual conducted his affairs. He might allow his premises to be a breeding place for injurious weeds and insects destructive to crops. It would take years before his neighbor was injured by such negligence. He might be so insanitary and filthy in his surroundings as to endanger the health and life of himself and his family, but the purifying effects of miles of sunlight rendered his neighbors safe. He might allow his soil to be washed away, his farm ruined, his crops wasted from year to year, and nobody cared anything about it, because land was plentiful, and there was no dense urban population dependent upon it for life.

In our own country such was the situation in 1808, but think how different it is today, in 1908.

Against the Will of the People.

[From Prof. J. Allen Smith's book "The Spirit of American Government."]

The advocates of the new form of government did not propose to defeat their own plans by declaring their real purpose—by explaining the Constitution to the people as they themselves understood it. For it was not to be supposed that the people would permit the adoption of a form of government the avowed object of which was to limit their power. Therefore the conservatives framed the Constitution as a means of restraining their agents and representatives and thereby making their own will supreme. It was not the aim of these articles, written, as they were, to influence public opinion, to explain the real purpose of the Constitution, but rather to disguise its true character.

In this species of political sophistry Hamilton was a master. He was an uncompromising opponent of democracy and considered the English government of that day, with its hereditary monarchy and aristocracy, the best form of government ever devised.

But this did not go far enough in the direction of providing checks on popular legislation to suit Hamilton. The members of the upper house of Congress were, like the president, to be indirectly elected and to hold office for life. And finally over and above Congress was to be placed a supreme court, whose members, by their mode of appointment and life tenure, were to be independent of the people. This body, which was to be the final interpreter of the Constitution, was designed as an additional safeguard against democratic legislation.

With his main purpose, that of effectually curbing the power of the majority, nearly all the members of that body were in full accord. They were, however, shrewd, experienced men of affairs, who understood the temper of the people and knew that their plan of political reorganization could be carried through only by disguising its reactionary character and representing it as a democratic movement.

The constitution as framed and submitted was more democratic in appearance, though it really contained all that was essential in Hamilton's plan.

The power was merely transferred from the president, in whose hands he had proposed to place it, and given to the Supreme Court. The end which he had in view was thus attained without arousing the opposition which would have been inevitable had there been anything in the Constitution to indicate that such power was intended to be conferred.

Had it been framed on the theory that the will of the people is the supreme law of the land, no one would have been more bitterly opposed than Hamilton himself. That he gave it his unqualified support is the best evidence that he did not believe that it would make the will of the people supreme.

To show the legislative body to be "the constitutional judges of their own power," Hamilton tells us, would be to affirm "that servant is above master." Hence it is necessary, he argues, to divest Congress of all authority to determine the extent of its own powers. To accomplish this the Supreme Court was made the constitutional judge of the powers of Congress and of its

MILWAUKEE

Words of Praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Blatz" refers you.

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Blatz Beer of Milwaukee in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are over in evidence.

Schlitz
The Beverage of Health.

Pure beer—Schlitz beer—is the best drink in the world for you.

The malt is a food; the hops a tonic. The alcohol—only 3 1/2 per cent—is an aid to digestion, a healthful stimulant.

But the beer must be pure.

That is why we brew Schlitz in absolute cleanliness. That's why we filter even the air that touches it and sterilize every bottle.

And the beer must be aged.

Green beer causes biliousness. That's why we age Schlitz for months.

Schlitz beer is absolutely pure and can't harm you.

Ask for the Schlitz bottle.

Too fraudulent votes are cast regularly each election in that leading city of Republican party-ism. Repeaters have made it a practice to vote early the names of people thought liable to neglect to vote and then if the real voter appeared to have him set upon by thugs, with the corruptly managed police looking the other way for fear of losing their jobs, or the real voter was committed till the day after by some crooked petty judge as a fraudulent voter! In the poorer quarters ballot box stuffing was simply a matter of course. By these means the corrupt Republican Philadelphia city ring ruled the city for years and stole everything that wasn't bolted down; even the city gas works. The Philadelphia reformers have done little to remedy the situation.

In Cincinnati the notorious Republican boss, Cox, has been able to put his boot to all reformers who have tried to do anything. The city has the reputation of having vote-brokerage down to a completer system than any other city in the country.

Chicago a Danger to Milwaukee. Vote-brokerage thrives in Chicago, and especially now, under the Republican mayor, Busse, and his corrupt police administration. For Chicago is regarded as having the rottenest police administration in the United States. It is estimated that the vote brokers in Chicago can furnish from 12,000 to 15,000 fraudulent votes on short notice, and the large, floating population offers excellent opportunities for transferring fraudulent votes between that city and St. Louis, Milwaukee, Cleveland and other cities! In St. Paul the floaters are exchanged with Minneapolis.

In Louisville every voter must have a registration certificate. These certificates are bought in large numbers and supplied to the colonizers and repeaters who go from precinct to precinct, many of them voting from ten to thirty times a day. It is by this continuous performance that a body of one hundred trained repeaters can have such a tremendous effect at an election. Louisville is believed to be in a chain with Cincinnati, St. Louis and Indianapolis, whereby the different sets of politicians provide their brothers in the other cities with fifty or other numbers of "citizens" for use in swaying elections.

A Big Fund of Fraud. Following is the estimate of fraudulent voting in the leading cities according to the best data obtainable:

New York, 30,000 to 40,000; Philadelphia, 40,000; Chicago, 15,000; Cincinnati, 12,000; Boston, 8,000; St. Louis, 8,000; San Francisco, 5,000; Louisville, 4,000; Milwaukee, 3,000; Buffalo, 3,000; Pittsburgh, 2,000; Detroit, 1,500; Los Angeles, 1,500; Minneapolis, 500.

Big Business Back of It. "One thing is apparent in all these transactions," says Mr. Russell. "Clearly the thing has passed out of the domain of partisan politics. Its extent and cost has grown beyond the limits of the party treasury. Democratic Tammany Hall has, no doubt, the most perfect and productive of all systems for filling the campaign treasury; but when the 'regular' and necessary campaign expenses are deducted, there would be left no margin sufficient for such gigantic expenditures as the colonization in New York of 1905, for instance, necessitated. To bring a floater to New York, main-

WILL THEY PLEASE ANSWER?

How high are the rents on River Street, where the Dahlmann Estate owns property, Mr. Dahlmann? And are you going to reduce the taxes on those properties?

Why did you try to graft your pavement expense on to the Twenty-second Ward, Mr. Dahlmann, when all other citizens were meeting the expense themselves?

How many Milwaukeeans did you soak with your mining schemes, Mr. Rose?

Were you taught in school, Mr. Dahlmann, that it was justifiable to tell a lie if the truth did not serve your purpose, because "the end sanctifies the means"?

How many corporations are you taking retainers from, Mr. Atty. Turner?

Why did you have that photograph of yourself as lieutenant of the Darlington Rifles spirited away from the wall of the Allis works' office some years ago, Mr. Rose?

How does it feel to have to come out in your true colors toward organized labor and in favor of your corporation backers, Mr. Rose?

Why don't you take a shovel and pick and shovel snow and break tain him the requisite time, pay the current rate for every vote he casts, pay the lodging house keepers, return him home again, pay the army of herdsmen, managers, thugs, and cheap lawyers necessary to protect and direct him, and to pay the brokerage, masses together the items of a big bill.

"Respectables" the Real Crooks. "Eight thousand dollars alone would be needed for this purpose in the New York city election of 1905. This sum never came from Tammany office holders or subscriptions of members. To find its origin we must lay hold of the fact that within four years of the election the board of aldermen would have franchises worth eight hundred million dollars to dispose of, that many public service corporations—gas, transportation, electric light (as in most large cities)—had vital interests involved. It was from these sources that the colonization fund came. It is from similar sources that similar funds are drawn in other cities."

Next week a concluding instalment of this summary of the Russell articles. Those who wish to read them at first hand should buy the December, January and March issues of the Cosmopolitan.

"God Knows!"—Taft Doesn't. The utter helplessness of what Gladstone called "the classes" in the face of the destruction of the masses, could not be better expressed than it was by Mr. Taft at Cooper Union when asked what a man is to do when out of work and starving in a financial crisis. "God knows!" was Mr. Taft's despairing reply. Yes, God knows; but hasn't God charged men with the responsibility of finding out for themselves? God knows everything, presumably, but does that exempt us from trying to find out what we don't know but ought to?

In an industrial era, the statesman who answers "God knows!" to such a question proves his incapacity. A leader who misconceives what God knows of such a matter at such a time, and therefore makes mistakes, is infinitely greater than one who throws up his hands in despair. Mistakes show what not to do, and

One thought has often struck me and struck me stronger than the newspaper types in which these events were spelled. What if Thaw had been some sort of a parlor Socialist? What if Stanford White had occasionally discussed economic determinism? What if Col. Snell had possessed a kind of admiration for Bernhard Shaw and had occasionally lectured on "The Origin of the Family?" What a hue and cry and clamor would have gone ringing from coast to coast!

How many Col. Snells are debauching and degrading womanhood of a whole community, but failing to get into the paper because they burn the letters that tell the guilt?

Town Topics by the Town Crier.

DON'T SHIRK THE PRIMARIES. BE "JOHNNY-ON-THE-SPOT!"
Now he is being thought of as the city bull in the jewellers' shops, smashing clocks, etc.
Do you want any more misruler Milwaukee? You can have more by helping the old parties at election time!
ARE YOU GOING TO VOTE THE WAY CORPORATION MONEY IS ASKING YOU TO?
The Social-Democrats can't be trusted because they're extremists, said the mayor—and then he got Chief Clancy to smash the jewellers' clocks!
Pull the fourth party lever on election day and you will thus vote the Social-Democratic ticket straight. And don't forget to vote for Huebschmann for judge, lower down on the machine.
SAVE THE MUNICIPAL LIGHT PLANT NOW! WE WANT ELECTRIC LIGHT IN OUR HOMES!
Let us hope no fire breaks out in any of the unprotected school buildings while the city authorities are quarreling over the matter of fire escapes—for while dollars are "dear" these days, our children are dearer.
Dahlmann never earned an honest dollar in his life, and he looks a good deal like our kid mayor in other ways, also. But while Becker gets his money from railway securities, Dahlmann gets his from places that need hardly be mentioned!
NEXT TUESDAY IS REGISTRATION DAY! NO NAMES ARE HELD OVER. YOU MUST APPEAR TO GO ON THE LIST. DO NOT DELAY, OR PUT IT OFF. TAKE THE CHANCE WHILE YOU CAN!
Rose has a poster down in the Twelfth Ward saying "Elect me and I'll push track elevation." This is the limit.
Track elevation is settled, and all the ordinances and resolutions passed that can be passed so far as the city is concerned, thanks to the Socialist aldermen. But for five years Dave's own administration held the thing up, and now he thinks that fact is forgotten.
The jewelers have decided to present their street clocks to the city, and will keep them in repair and properly regulated. Good for the jewelers and their decision to return good for evil. The clocks were a public advantage and their smashing was an unrelieved outrage.
Milwaukee elections have been stolen so often that we need not be surprised that the politicians are trying to employ the old methods in this campaign. It has worked in the past, and, besides, old party voters who call themselves respectable, are willing to wink at it. Let honest men be on the watch.
The Social-Democrats have never been fully in control of any city anywhere in the world, although they did have a city in France, but as everybody knows, French cities have not home rule. However, with the little power they had they have made their influence felt in a most marked way.
It is all right for Kelly to chide Dahlmann for defaming Milwaukee, but what kind of bunk is it that Kelly himself is giving out—particularly with regard to the three-cent fares! Such gammon we have not heard in many a day. Kelly knows that Beggs will never grant it.
You cannot teach old dogs new tricks. The old parties have put up corporation and trust attorneys for delegates to the charter convention. The work in the convention will not be paid for by the city, but these legal foxes will get their pay all right—from the corporations. And you know what that means for the people's charter!
The corporation lawyers have their eyes on the charter convention. Atty. Frank Hoyt says the Social-Democratic proposals would mean bankruptcy. The old bunk! In Europe, where municipal ownership has made such headway, it has not only been found to serve the people, but also to have saved them money and to have rescued them from the prying private corporations.
Supervisor Mies won out in committee Thursday in the Berthelet Street vacation fight. The Berthelets built a small building on the land at the end of Montana Street, in Town of Lake, and tried to get the street closed so as to cinch the land they had grabbed. By the use of lawyers they tried to hold the ground, but Supervisor Mies again triumphs. Supervisors Schade, Gensz, S. R. Bell and Jacobs voted for the Berthelets, but Comrade Mies and four others carried the vote, and the people will rejoice.

A story comes to this office about the Industrial School sending girls out to work, on probation, at lower wages than other domestics receive, as low as $2 a week. And that the girl is allowed to retain $1.50 of this while the rest is saved for her till she is 21. And some of them are worked like slaves at fearfully long hours—which seems a rather queer way to make a girl contented with the virtuous life.

NEXT TUESDAY IS REGISTRATION DAY! NO NAMES ARE HELD OVER. YOU MUST APPEAR TO GO ON THE LIST. DO NOT DELAY, OR PUT IT OFF. TAKE THE CHANCE WHILE YOU CAN!

When the Socialist aldermen found a school building in their ward that was in an unprotected and unsafe condition, they gave the city no peace until outside fire escapes—temporary ones, because they had secured the promise of a new building—were placed on all three sides of the building and the lives of the children safeguarded, and their parents set at ease. This building will be torn down this summer, but meantime it does not have to be included among the buildings for which fire escapes have been demanded.

Oh, yes, the rich and the poor are equal before the law—like fun! Republican ex-Mayor Schmitz, the Dave Rose of "Frisco, who gave San Francisco one of its most Boodle-ridden administrations, has now been released from prison by the courts, in spite of his enormous stealings. And over in Toledo, where a bunch of bandit ice barons were sent up by the courts and the people said "Ah ha! Don't you see that the law applies to the rich the same as the poor!" the courts have just released the rich prisoners after they had only just begun to serve their time, and why? Because "the families and the business of the prisoners need them!" Do you suppose such a plea would ever be made in behalf of some poor duffer? It is unthinkable!
Let labor take a hand in selecting the judges!

Gradually we are getting the truth about the shooting down of the sickly young Jew, Averbuch, by the burly Chief Shippey of Chicago. Whether it was cold-blooded murder or not, cannot yet be told, but a number of rich Jews in that city, who hate anarchists as the Christian capitalists hate them, are half convinced that it was. Averbuch was an orthodox Jew, ambitious to get ahead financially, and it is proven that he had no connections with any Anarchist society. Shippey not only presides over the most debased police administration in the United States, but is himself drunk most of the time, often to the verge of tremens, and all well-informed people in Chicago know. It has been pretty well shown that the young Jew went to Shippey's house unarmed.

The Anarchist scare has always been a source of much revenue to the Chicago police heads—for it has given them a good pretext to hold up the bankers and railroad and trust magnates. Since the Denver incident the Anarchist business has been revived by the Chicago police and has been uppermost in the minds of Shippey, Schuetter and the others.
The belief now is that Shippey was in a half-inebriate state and opened fire on the stripping without asking questions, and that while pumping the defenseless young fellow full of lead, one of the bullets struck his own son. The Chicago police are doing all they can to stop the investigation. Chicago's police administration is an organized band of crooks, and it is in league with thieves, murderers, prostitutes and thugs. Compared to the Chicago horde Milwaukee has a police force of angels.

MILWAUKEE HAS HAD ENOUGH OF FAT-HEAD SONS OF WEALTH WHO TRY TO BUY ELECTIONS WITH THEIR UNEARNED MILLIONS!

Are You Going?
A fine show is promised for the out-of-work machinists' benefit at the Shubert, Thursday evening, March 19.

Word comes of the acquittal of Bro. Thomas Carr, one of the striking metal workers in Kenosha. He was charged with assault, and was represented by Atty. Rubin.
